

Choosing a Guardian for Children

Criteria

The care of your minor children is of major importance in case of your demise. Choosing someone to care for your children who will love them and raise them the way you would is something to consider very carefully. Will the children be well provided for and will the custodian be ready to handle this important responsibility? The following are some criteria to bear in mind when making your choice. Are they:

- Able and willing
- Capability factor/health
- Age capable
- Similar religious beliefs
- Financially responsible and able
